Preschool News

Well I made it through the first week back! I am really enjoying the kids and getting to know their personalities.

In Bible we read the story of Abraham and Sarah. This story teaches us that God has a plan for each of us and will never break his promises. Isaac came just when Abraham and Sarah gave up hope.

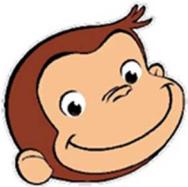

I have been working with the kids on their interactions with each other, using their words and expressing their feelings. Most kids spent a good amount of time in the block area this week which lead to many lessons on being friends, working together, respecting each other and their creations, helping each other at clean up and so much more!

Next week we will do one of my favorite stories, Jonah and the Whale. I have some fun projects planned for us! Have an amazing weekend!

Curious Kinders News

Dear Families, Happy Friday! We spent this week learning about forgiveness and how to ask God to help us forgive each other when someone does something to hurt us.

We also learned about spending a time with God each day by reading about Mary and Martha in Luke, Chapter 10. Mary was spending time with Jesus, and Martha was so caught up in doing things for Jesus, she wasn't spending time with Him.

The students made goats in the shape of a G and a house in the shape of an H. They did a lot of practice counting and writing Gg, Hh, 8 & 9. Our favorite day was Wednesday at the Candy Apple Orchard. Eating apples right off the trees are without question the best!

Have a great weekend! Mrs. Powell

This week we did math, and in social studies we made pockets for Ancient Mesopotamia and started Ancient Egypt. We learned some new vocabulary and made flip charts for the words. In P.E. we practiced throwing. We did spelling and Bible time. In Bible we read about the time the Israelites were in the wilderness. We learned about the bronze serpent, Aaron's rod that budded, Balaam, and water from a rock.

On Wednesday we went to the apple orchard. My favorite part was tasting the apple cider. We also picked apples and saw a big machine make fresh apple cider. We explored the whole property and got to see what kind of apples there are: golden delicious, red delicious, and Rome apples. I also liked the drive back, especially driving between the hills. Thank you Dr. and Mrs. Briggs for hosting us! - Taddy, 1st grade

The 4th -7th grade students have begun their MAPs testing this week. It's been interesting watching them diligently working on the knowledge that they have developed.

On Wednesday we went to Candy Apple Orchard on a field trip. I saw some of my students lifting their younger siblings up into the trees to get apples, helping them pick the lower apples and giving comfort to some that were new to this adventure.

We are beginning to draw a picture of creation week in our Bible class. We are talking about what the earth would have been like before God created anything. It's difficult to imagine. The students are doing an amazing job memorizing some impressively long memory verses.
